The sun was up, but Annie still slept soundly. In fact, she was totally immobile in bed. Yet even though her body was still, a lot was going on inside her head. In there, Annie was starring in a terrific dream.

In her dream, Ms. Impossible, who looked just like Annie, was rushing to help a man trapped inside a car. The car hung on the edge of a cliff.
The man was incapable of getting out. But Ms. Impossible flew down and saved him.

“How did you do that?” asked the man. “That was impossible!”

Ms. Impossible smiled. Seconds later, she spotted a shy, indecisive cat stuck in a tree. Ms. Impossible made an incredible leap and grabbed the cat. “Ms. Impossible, I insist on paying you for saving Fluffy!” said the cat’s owner.

“I don’t want to sound impolite,” replied Ms. Impossible. “But it’s improper to pay superheroes!”

Then a different voice asked Ms. Impossible for aid. “My schoolwork is incomplete. Can you help me finish it?”

Ms. Impossible was shocked and insulted. This was an invalid request! She had to inform this person that superheroes did not help inattentive kids finish school assignments!

Just then Ms. Impossible felt a hand shaking her and she could hear the same voice. “Annie, please get up and help me!”

Sleepy Annie slowly looked up at the voice. It was her little sister, Kate. “You are impossible to wake up!” said Kate.

Impossible? Annie rolled over and smiled.
